Gentlemen:

Enclosed are copies of your adjudication claims as per your request. I also inquired about the storage capacity study on Chesterfield Reservoir. At this time the study is stalled. There is a need for additional data and the agencies involved do not have the needed extra funding or available personnel.

I have also discussed the storage delivery situation in Chesterfield Reservoir with others in this office. We are looking at the possibility of estimating evaporation losses in the Reservoir as they do in WD 01. The measuring device suggestion in the feeder ditch and subsequent studies on the river are not feasible at this time.

Sincerely,

Harold W. Jones
Water Resource Supervisor
