INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING A NOTICE OF PROTEST

1. The matter being protested must be clearly identified. Applications filed with IDWR typically have an application number assigned. Some examples include:
Application for Permit No. 18-13455 in the name of Tom Rodgers, or Application for Transfer No. 85223 in the name of Rutebaga Canal Company.
2. List the name and contact information for the protestant(s). Generally, only one protestant should be listed. Joint owners of a water right (e.g., husband and wife) may file a joint protest. If the protest form lists more than one protestant, the Department will consider the first person listed on the form as the spokesperson for the group and the primary contact for service of documents.
3. If the protestant is represented by an attorney or other authorized representative, please list the representative's name and contact information. If a representative is identified, the Department and other parties will use the representative's contact information for official communications.
4. Describe the basis of protest. A protest must be related to the review criteria set forth by statute. The various applications filed with the Department are governed by different statutes and have unique review criteria. The lists below summarize the review criteria for applications for permit and applications for transfer.

The criteria the Department must consider when evaluating an application for permit are set forth in Idaho Code § 42 203A(5).

1. Whether the proposed appropriation will reduce the quantity of water under existing rights. (Whether the proposed appropriation will injure existing water rights.)
2. Whether the water supply is sufficient for the purpose intended.
3. Whether the application is made in good faith or for delay or speculative purposes.
4. Whether the applicant has sufficient financial resources with which to complete the project.
5. Whether the application will conflict with the local public interest. ("Local public interest" is defined as the interests of the people in the area directly affected by the proposed use and its effects on the public water resource.)
6. Whether the proposed use is contrary to conservation of water resources within the state of Idaho.
7. In a case where the place of use is outside the watershed or local area containing the source of water, whether the proposed use will affect the local economy of the source's watershed or local area.

The criteria the Department must consider when evaluating an application for transfer are set forth in Idaho Code § 42 222(1).

1. Whether the proposed change will injure existing water rights.
2. Whether the proposed change will result in an enlargement in use under existing rights.
3. Whether the proposed change is contrary to conservation of water resources within the state of Idaho.
4. Whether the proposed change will conflict with the local public interest. ("Local public interest" is defined as the interests of the people in the area directly affected by the proposed use and its effects on the public water resource.)

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING A NOTICE OF PROTEST

5. In a case where the place of use is outside the watershed or local area containing the source of water, whether the proposed change will adversely affect the local economy of the watershed or local area within which the source of water originates.
6. In a case where the nature of use is changing from agricultural use, whether the proposed nature of use change will significantly affect the agricultural base of the local area.
7. In a case where the water right is for municipal purposes, whether the proposed change is consistent with the requirements for municipal providers.

The criteria the Department must consider when evaluating an application for amendment of permit are set forth in Idaho Code § 42-211.

1. Whether the proposed amendment will result in the diversion and use of more water than originally permitted.
2. Whether the proposed amendment will adversely affect the water rights of others. (Whether the proposed amendment will injure existing water rights.)

The criteria the Department must consider when evaluating an application for exchange are set forth in Idaho Code § 42-240(5).

1. Whether the proposed exchange will injure other water rights.
 2. Whether the proposed exchange will result in an enlargement in use under existing rights.
 3. Whether the proposed exchange is contrary to the conservation of water resources within the state of Idaho.
 4. Whether the proposed change will conflict with the local public interest. (“Local public interest” is defined as the interests of the people in the area directly affected by the proposed use and it’s effects on the public water resource.)
 5. In a case where the place of use is outside the watershed or local area containing the source of water, whether the proposed exchange will adversely affect the local economy of the watershed or local area within which the source of water originates.
5. Pursuant to IDAPA 37.01.01.053.02.b, the Department may authorize parties to serve documents via email rather than mail or personal service. Check the box if you will accept service of documents, including notices and orders, by email. Please be sure to provide your email address(es) in Item #2 and #3.
