

Example of Existing Soft Conversion Project Groundwater District Conversion: Marshall

Located on the North Side Canal system's L-Canal, this conversion services approximately 320 acres using two 60-hp pumps. The water from the L-Canal enters retention pond before it is pumped approximately a quarter mile through a 15" mainline to storage reservoir at the top of the hill. The conversion has been in place about five years and reduced the pump lift from 420ft to 125ft.
